

QUET AS SUNDAY WITH THE TONGERS

President of State Board of Fisheries Observes What Oystermen Are Doing.

COMMISSIONER YACHT EMELINE

No Provision Has Yet Been Made for Officering the New Board.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., June 9.—W. McDonald Lee, president of the State Board of Fisheries, returned this evening to his home at Irvington, after spending two days in his official looking after the oystermen of this oyster navy.

Yesterday Mr. Lee went to Hampton, and securing a gasoline launch, made a trip up the James to see what the oystermen were doing. He found everything "quiet as Sunday," to use his expression, and as far as he could see the tongsers were observing the law.

The steam yacht EmeLine, which was purchased by the State Board for $14,000, and is being remodeled at a cost of $3,000, will be completed in the next two weeks, and will be placed in commission within the next month.

The board has made no provision yet for officering the EmeLine. There seems to be a mistaken impression relative to the election of officers of the oyster navy. The president of the board explained to-day that the officers and crew of the boats are appointed for no definite term and that they hold office until there is reason for removal. New appointments are not necessarily made with a change of administration.

BOTH CANDIDATES SPEAK.

Hard to Make Predictions as Between Jones and Mears.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FRANKLIN CITY, VA., June 9.—Congressman W. A. Jones, candidate for the Democratic nomination for re-election from the First Congressional District of Virginia, delivered a speech last evening at Greenbushville to a large and appreciative audience. Mr. Jones was introduced by L. F. J. Wilson, one of the most prominent citizens of that place.

Mr. Otho Mears, of Northampton county, an opponent of Congressman Jones, also spoke to the officers and men of the Chesapeake Island in behalf of his candidacy in a large and attentive audience, consisting of about four hundred.

The speaker was introduced by G. F. Parham.

Due to the results of the approaching primary at the above named places, it would be quite difficult to make predictions.

Eastville Academy.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
EASTVILLE, VA., June 9.—The commencement exercises of Eastville Academy took place Thursday evening, when the Rev. C. A. Thomas delivered the address to a large and appreciative gathering. Dead Three Weeks.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK NEWS, VA., June 9.—The dead body of Samuel A. Falkingham, a seaman, was found on the beach here to-day. The body was badly decomposed and had been in the water for several weeks. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of "accidental drowning." In the post-mortem examination a bank book showing that the man had over three hundred dollars to his credit in a Boston bank, a union card and ten dollars in cash.

Captain March Fined.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
NORFOLK, VA., June 9.—William H. March, master of the oyster boat "Edith," found guilty yesterday of unlawfully holding William H. Gallagher aboard his boat, was today sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs by Judge Waddill, following the denial of a motion for a new trial. March was allowed by Judge Waddill to go to his home for the purpose of raising the money with which to pay the fine and costs.

VERDICT FOR PLAINTIFF.

Oxford Seeks, Through Courts to Repudiate Bonds.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
RALEIGH, N. C., June 9.—In the United States District Court to-day, in the case of the Union Bank of Richmond vs. Oxford and the Bank of Raleigh, a verdict in favor of the plaintiff—that is, for the payment of the $15,000 bonds issued for the railroad and interest, the whole amount being about $28,000.

This case, known as the Oxford bond case, has been pending for some time, and has been up on appeal twice before. Defendants file notice of appeal again.

Oxford seeks to repudiate the bonds on the ground that the road was not run according to agreement.

An Appeal for the Ice Mission.

The excessive heat of the past few days has caused a great many calls for ice to be used among the sick poor, and all available funds have been expended. The ice mission, therefore, appeals to its many friends for immediate aid, feeling assured that this mission is all that is necessary to evoke a liberal response. Boxes may be found at the newspaper office and at the various drug stores and soda fountains. Contributions may be sent direct to Mrs. C. E. Bolling, 802 West Grace Street.

Judge Christian Designated.

Governor Swannick yesterday designated Judge Frank T. Christian to hold an extra session of the Circuit Court of Russell county, June 26th.

Will Elect School Teachers.

The election of principals and teachers for the public schools of this city will come off Monday night, the office of Secretary Walford, of the School Board, in the City Hall.

If you watch for the items on Argo Red Salmon you will find some very interesting things about Alaska and the Salmon industry, which is very little known in this country. "Argo" is a household word wherever this Salmon has been introduced.

GLEN ALLEN, VA.

Seems to have reached a turning point in its modest career, and now offers enlarged opportunities for new-comers—for men of broader thought and higher ideals. It has had its pastoral period, under guidance of a pastoral people, but is now reaching out for something bigger and brighter and better.

The place used to be called "Mountain Road Crossing," and there was no station there, or postoffice, or store, or church, or schoolhouse, or anything except a few scattered houses, scattered with pasture lands, and an occasional patch of Indian corn or tobacco. But a few years after the war a postoffice was applied for, and they called it "Glen Allen," after the old homestead.

Since that time there has been gradual growth—steady, natural, unimpaired and unchecked. The population is inconsiderable, the place being merely an assemblage of pretty villas and attractive rural homes, but the surrounding country is progressive and tributary, and thus it has come about that Glen Allen has developed into a center of activity, and enjoys almost every advantage possessed by an opulent city. For instance, it has:

- A new railway station;
- Twelve passenger trains;
- Three mail deliveries;
- Adams Express service;
- Local and through freights;
- Primary and graded schools;
- Telegraph service, day and night;
- Home and long distance telephone;
- General stores, wholesale and retail;
- Double-track railroad, with "cross-over" and sidings;
- A postoffice of the presidential class, with foreign and domestic money order department and a central station for rural free mail delivery;
- A nearby electric road, now building;
- A publishing house, which employs some fifty people;
- And in the immediate neighborhood there are churches, mills, dairies, market gardens, orchards and the usual industries of a progressive people.

Outsiders just now are making a scramble for the political places, notably the postoffice, which is worth $1,500 a year, and anybody may have a chance at it, as residence is not really necessary to a man with a pull.

The present postmaster was put in years ago, when the place was hardly worth having, but he's a person of no influence to speak of—a simple business man, who could no more steer a caucus or revise a primary than he could corrupt an inspector or pack a convention. Besides, he's a mere foreigner anyhow, with nothing to recommend him but his business habits and a lot of old-fashioned notions about duty and industry and dull plodding diligence. For that is really the man's strong point—a knack of surmounting difficulties and doing his duty. He's a strong point—a knack of surmounting difficulties and doing his duty. He's a strong point—a knack of surmounting difficulties and doing his duty.

By all means, let this disbanding postmaster be sent back to his native land. He has grown up with Glen Allen and could tell his fellow foreigners all about it. He could convince them that we wanted "only the best," and could probably achieve more striking results than could be attained by a shipload of accredited commissioners.

But whether you are bent on a public career or a private one, you can hardly afford to overlook the claims which this new place, Glen Allen, now presents.

South Park Avenue will be ready for purchasers in a few days. It runs straight out from the station, is a hundred feet in width, and is fringed with forest trees along its entire length. The Lodge, equipped throughout, is also for sale. If interested, please address FOREST LODGE, Glen Allen, Va.

MISS RUTH LEE OGBURN WEDS MR. M. W. OGBURN.

Pretty Midweek Wedding at Berea Church on Wednesday.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
UNION LEVEL, VA., June 9.—One of the prettiest marriages of the season took place Wednesday at the Berea Christian Church near here, when Miss Ruth Lee Ogburn became the bride of Mr. Melville W. Ogburn, both of this county.

Owing to the recent death of Mrs. Jennings Boswell, an aunt of the bride, it was only a quiet church marriage.

Miss Ruth Lee Ogburn, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mr. William G. Jackson, of Chase City, nephew of the groom, was best man.

The bride party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn, most impressively rendered by Miss Helen Tolson, of Washington, D. C., and Miss Annie Lanier Petty, of Mecklenburg county, sang "Always" as a solo, before the ceremony. The waltzes were as follows: Miss Julia Elam with Mr. John M. Webb, Miss Julia M. Petty with Mr. Victor Eppes, Miss Myrtle Ogburn with Mr. J. A. Jackson, Miss Julia Wilkerson, with Mr. Waverly Gill, Miss Lucy Simmons with Mr. S. B. Johnson, Jr., Miss Sadie Ogburn with Mr. J. Ferguson, Rev. Mr. Walker of Drake's Branch, performed the ceremony, in the presence of a large crowd of friends and relatives.

The bride was attired in a handsome traveling gown of blue and green over tulle, and had "hat to match."

The maid of honor and bridesmaids

mously re-elected to the office of president; so were the vice-presidents, Mrs. Charles Washington Coleman, of Williamsburg, and Mrs. George W. Mayo, of this city.

Members of the board elected were Mrs. W. T. Robbins, Mrs. Corbin Mercer, Mrs. W. V. Henry, Miss Emma Morehead Whitfield and Miss Anna Boykin.

FOUND BODY.

Searchers Recover Remains of Mr. Bullheiler.

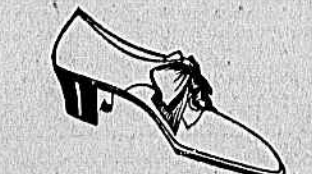

The body of J. V. Bullheiler, the young man who was drowned day before yesterday in the river near Belle Isle, while out swimming, was found yesterday by a couple of white men, who poked it to the shore and sent for Billy, the undertaker. The corpse was conveyed thither, where it was viewed by Coroner Taylor, who deemed an inquest unnecessary.

Mr. Bullheiler leaves a wife and one child, who live at No. 1108 North Twenty-fifth Street, in Fairmount. The body will be taken to the home of his father, who owns a farm out on the Nine-Mile Road. Here the burial will take place to-day.

GOES TO CHASE CITY.

Company B Will Participate in Fourth of July Celebrations.

Company B, Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, has received an invitation to participate in the celebrations in that city. The command is one of the old ones of the city and has a proud record. Captain A. W. Miller hopes to take a large number of the command with him on the trip, which will be much enjoyed.

The celebration at Chase City excite considerable interest, and are always attended by a large crowd. Speeches, fireworks, dancing, ball games, tournaments and other events are among the features.

OUTING CONTEST OPENS IN EARNEST

Strenuous Race for Times-Dispatch Summer Outing Contest Has Already Begun.

FACTS TO BE REMEMBERED

Certain Matters That Must Be Borne in Mind by Ladies of City and Country.

The contest has opened in real earnest, but it is useless giving figures this week, as the first series of coupons does not run out till the 15th and there must be lots of people hoarding them up for next week. What the outing contest man wants to impress upon the fair contestants, however, is not to hold the coupons too long or they may become valueless by having lapsed, for those that do not reach this office at least by the day after that of the date printed on them will not be worth anything. Then, again, you must be impressed with the fact that the weather is hot, to say the least of it, and that if the coupons come in a few days it will be mainly because of the work of the office staff in counting them than if you leave them all to come in on the same day. You will all naturally want to know how you stand every week; to do this it is imperative that only those votes that come in by noon on Saturday next, the 16th of June, will be able to be counted in next week's rating of the contestants.

There are just these facts to be carefully borne in mind:

1. A coupon cut from the paper is worth two votes.
 2. Every cent collected for renewal subscriptions is worth one vote.
 3. That every cent collected for new subscriptions is worth three votes.
 4. That there are ten parties from the city of Richmond and ten parties resident in the State outside of Richmond to get the benefit of these free outings.
- The last recommendation is made from the fact that our friends in the State do not seem to be fully alive to this fact, and that they do not in any way come in conflict with the ladies in the city. The competition is absolutely separate as between the city and the State.
- Last, but not least, let it sink well into your minds that one day during the coming week the coupon will have an "X" in it and be worth ten votes.

ENJOYABLE RECITAL.

Pupils of Professor Kahn Give Meritorious Exhibition.

The closing recital of the pupils of Professor Sigmund Kahn was given at the Y. M. C. A. Hall Thursday evening. The programme embraced both branches of the vocal and instrumental, and was particularly well chosen for the occasion.

Even the heaviest numbers of the programme, the fifth and sixth rhapsodies of Liszt, and the Beethoven number, the concert in C minor (first movement), with Cadenza and second piano accompaniment, were rendered with a dash and expression that marked a most excellent interpretation.

After the musical programme, Dr. E. N. Callach presented a diploma to Miss Lizzie La Fratta.

The programme as a whole is given below:

Minuet for two pianos,..... Wolff, 1821-1892
Alice Kahn.
Sigmund Kahn.
Caprice in A minor,..... Mendelssohn, 1809-1847
Elsie Feilhaber.
Forget Me Not song,..... Suppe, 1820-1891
Bessie Lankin.
Children's Ball,..... Terschach, 1832
Esther Wilson.
Mildred Callach.
Wedding March for two pianos,..... Mendelssohn, 1809-1847
Nina Smith.
Lena Massei.
Johnnie Smith.
Lizzie La Fratta.
Evening Star, from Tannhauser,..... Wagner, 1813-1883
Clinton C. Boyd.
Scherzo in E minor,..... Mendelssohn, 1809-1847
Johnnie Smith.
Rhapsodie, No. 5,..... Liszt, 1811-1886
Lizzie La Fratta.
Le Parlate D'Amor Song, from Faust,..... Gounod, 1818-1897
Lillian Savas.
Concerto in C minor (first movement) with Cadenza and second piano accompaniment,..... Beethoven, 1770-1827
Lena Massei.
Valse Impromptu,..... Raft, 1822-1883

Presentation of diploma to Miss Lizzie La Fratta by Rev. Dr. E. N. Callach.

MRS. BETSY WARE.

Italian Correspondent of Governor Wants to Know About Her.

Any one who knows of the death of Mrs. Betsy Ware, of Virginia, is requested to communicate with Governor Swannick. Yesterday the Governor received a letter from Washington containing a clipping from an Italian correspondent inquiring for more information about the lady.

It was stated in the clipping that she was one hundred and thirty years of age when she died, and had been a partner in dances with Napoleon and Murat, being a native of a French province.

So far, the Governor has been able to discover nothing about Mrs. Ware at all. He hopes that some of the ninety-eight descendants mentioned in the clipping from the Italian paper will send him what they know of her.

DR. CHANDLER APPOINTED

Chief of Literature and History Department of Exposition.

Professor J. A. C. Chandler, a graduate of the College of William and Mary, and formerly of the chair of English in Richmond College, has been appointed chief of the staff of education and history in the literary department of the Jamestown Exposition.
